

MONSIGNOR SULLIVAN

Goos to Baltimore and Norfolk to Recuperate

AND REV. FATHER PURKE SUCCEEDS

To the Administration of the Diocese Until the Consecration of Bishop-Elect Donohue Shortly After Easter—The Monsignor's Health Shows a Decided Change for the Better.

The many warm friends among Catholics and non-Catholics of Monsignor J. T. Sullivan will be pleased to hear that a decided change for the better was noticeable yesterday in the dangerous crisis of ill health through which he has been passing during the past month—a crisis that has seriously menaced his brain and other vital organs, and caused much anxiety to his attendant physician.

In consequence of this complication, and the exhaustion and worry inseparable from the efforts made by him to attend court during the lengthy contest over the M. Reilly will, through sheer exhaustion of the system he has been debarrd the use of all nutritious diet till within the last few days, when he has become able to leave his room and stand the trip in a Pullman car to Baltimore to rest for some weeks at the new hospital there in charge of the Sisters of Mercy.

It is the wish of his medical advisor for him to resume his route to Norfolk, Va., where in the hospital of the Sisters of Charity, every comfort needed by one in his run-down health awaits him, with the added advantage of change of environment and bracing and life giving sea air. There, relieved of the cares of office and duties so numerous and trying to one of his altered and broken health, and under skies so favoring, the foundation of a new lease of life and future usefulness may be reasonably looked for.

Meantime, his life-long friend and co-laborer, Very Rev. Father Parke, chaplain at Mt. de Chantal, will, during the closing months of the "widowhood" of the diocese, preside in Monsignor Sullivan's stead as administrator, till the installation of Archbishop Knis's successor, the Rt. Rev. P. J. Donohue, whose consecration will take place in the Baltimore cathedral shortly after Easter Sunday.

By reliable accounts, Wheeling will possess in the new Catholic bishop a citizen it will soon learn to admire and esteem for his many civic and clerical virtues, as an all round man, broad-viewed and as alive to the city's and state's best interests as were either of his illustrious predecessors. An American by birth and training and patriotic aspirations, a disciple of America's renowned cardinal and an inheritor of the love of country and of the toiling masses, so characteristic of that great churchman, Bishop Donohue ascends to the honors and responsibilities of the mitre in the very prime of manhood and intellectual strength.

Yet, if report be true, none could be more easy of access than Wheeling's bishop-elect.

It is understood that the Mount de Chantal chaplain—Very Rev. Father Parke—is empowered to adjust all claims against the late administration, and he can be found at the bishop's residence from 9 a. m. till 6 p. m. daily.

The Cause of Headley's Downfall—His Peculiarities Reached High Figure.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 27.—Developments in the Headley duplication of bonded warehouse receipts this morning go to increase the shortage. It is now believed his criminal operations will reach $50,000.

It is believed Headley is safe in Mexico. The estate of the late Charles Peck, of which Headley is executor, is about $20,000 short.

The Robinson Coal Company, of West Virginia, is also reported to be a heavy loser. The cause of Headley's trouble is attributed to his fondness for poker.

INCIDENT OF THE WAR.

A Colored Soldier's Peculiar Logic—Why He Ran.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir:—During the war I heard the following conversation between an officer and a colored man a day or so after a fight:

"Were you in the fight?"

"Had a little taste of it, sah."

"Stood your ground, did you?"

"No, sah, I runs."

"Ran at the first fire, did you?"

"Yes, sah; and I would have run sooner had I knowed it war coming."

"Why, that wasn't very creditable to your courage."

"Dat isn't in my line, sah. Cookin's my profession."

"Well, but have you no regard for your reputation?"

"Reputation's nuffin' by the side of life."

"Do you consider your life worth more than other people's lives?"

"It's worth more to me, sah."

"Then you must value it very highly."

"Yes, sah, I does—more dan all dis world—more dan a million ob dollars, sah, for what would that be wuth to a man with de brel out ob him? Self preserbation am de first law wid me."

"But why should you act upon a different rule from other men?"

"Because different men set different values upon dar lives. Mine is not in de market."

"But if you lost it you would have the satisfaction of knowing that you died for your country?"

"What satisfaction would dat be to me when de power of feelin' war gone?"

"Then patriotism and honor are nothing to you?"

"Nuffin' whatever, sah. I regard dem as among de vanities."

"If our soldiers were all like you, traitors might have broken up de government without resistance."

"Yes, sah, dar would have been no help for it. I wouldn't put my head in de scale against no government dat eber existed, for no government could replace de loss to me."

"Do you think any of your company would have missed you if you had been killed?"

"Maybe not, sah. A dead white man ain't much to dese sojars, let alone a dead nigger, but I'd a miss myself, and dat was de pint wid me."

Editorial in the Fairmount M. E. Church.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir:—Will you allow me a short space in your paper to say a few things in regard to the above revival?

The meeting began with the week of prayer. Fifty-six have made a profession of religion and seventy or eighty have joined the church by letter and on probation. The meeting was conducted by Rev. J. R. Fullerton, pastor, assisted by the writer and others. The meeting was a grand success, considering the fact that when Dr. Fullerton entered upon his labors among the people of that station he found a divided sentiment growing out of the removal of Rev. J. Engle. Yet the church rallied around him, with a few exceptions, and held up his hands. I have known Fairmount for over thirty years, and I think I can say that there has never been a better preacher in that town than Brother Fullerton, and that is the opinion of many others. I like Brother Fullerton and believe him to be a Christian and a gentleman. His church was never in a better spiritual condition than it is at present. His congregations are very large. I therefore think, Mr. Editor, that God overruled, both in the removal of Brother Engle from Fairmount and in the sending of Dr. Fullerton to serve that people. "Man proposes, but God disposes." We can not always see the end from the beginning. I write this as a friend to all parties concerned and those who love the cause of Christ and the old M. E. church.

Yours truly,

W. H. WILEY.

He has also a damage suit for $20,000 pending against Alderson.

A Martin's Ferry man who recently went to work in the Standard mill coal bank as a hauler had his shoulder and neck badly hurt yesterday. He was knocked off a train of cars in the bank and three of the cars passed over him. It is a wonder he was not killed.

The miners employed in the Anna mill bank earn only about $7 or $8 in two weeks. The Standard miners get in much more time and make about twice this amount.

The remains of the late Evan Wallace will arrive on the C. & P. this afternoon at 2:30 from Brilliant and will be taken direct to Riverview cemetery for interment.

BICYCLE RACING.

Wheeling to Be a Member of International Racing Circuit.

A GUARANTEE TO BE FURNISHED

To the Wheelmen's League Racing Board—Interest in the Bowling Contests this Week—The Season Drawing to a Close—Where the Eight Teams Lost and Won Throughout the Season.

The outlook for really first-class bicycle racing in Wheeling this year can be said to be very good at present.

The outlook will develop into a certainty should Wheeling be admitted as a full-fledged member of the International racing circuit of the I. A. W., which is now being formed by Chairman Raymond, of the racing board of the league. At both the Buffalo and Louisville meetings of the national assembly the racing magnate promised that Wheeling should have a place in the circuit, and if the conditions to be complied with on becoming a member are met, the town will be in it. When Mr. Raymond was reappointed to his position last week, at Louisville he was deluged with telegrams to the number of nearly two hundred, all containing applications for admission to the circuit. In fact since the two amateur classes have been created by the league the interest in racing matters has become even more pronounced than was the case last year.

The local club that made application to join the circuit, the Wheeling Athletic Wheelmen, has been asked by Mr. Raymond to furnish a proper guarantee of its ability to manage the two race meetings that will take place here. When this is furnished, Wheeling will be in out of the wet. The club is now circulating a paper among the business men of the city, which attests to the responsibility and business ability of the organization. In the face of last September's glittering success nobody who had dealings with the club has refused to sign.

If the city gets into the circuit, which seems almost certain, in addition to Zimmerman, all of the other racing men of international reputation will race here, including the speedy Johnson, Sanzer, Tyler, Windle, Taylor, Bliss and the others.

Since the victory of the Wheeling Bowling Club over the South Siders, Monday evening, the interest in the outcome of the championship series has become even more pronounced than before. It is generally conceded that the over-the-creek people will have a hard time beating out both the Wheeling and Columbia teams. The race is between these three, but the Intelligencer seems to have a "cinch" on fourth place. The following table shows where each team won and lost its games throughout the season, and will be perused with interest by the great army of bowling enthusiasts:

There is much curiosity regarding the result of the games between the Press Club and the Calumet teams which take place to-night at the Wheeling Park alleys. The former team has surprised one or two people this season, and may repeat former performances this evening. The other games of the week are: Thursday evening, Columbia vs. The Bowlers, at Seibert's, and on Saturday evening the Intelligencer vs. W. A. W. at Seibert's.

When the Wheeling Bowling League championship season commenced, last December, there were sixteen bowling alleys in the city and vicinity. The increased popularity of the sport is attested to by the following table, which shows the number of alleys at present, under construction, or soon to be started.

"Corinne" Last Night.

Corinne and her burlesque opera troupe gave "Hendrick Hudson," a pleasing patchwork of song and dialogue, to a large and immensely delighted audience at the Opera House last evening. There was no plot, no sequence, in fact nothing to weary the brain in the piece, it being constructed merely to entertain the auditor for the time, and so pointed that he may forget it as soon as he likes. Corinne has improved greatly in physical and personal attractions since her last appearance in this city. The play had a good setting and the costumes were decidedly rich—and new. Many of the musical features were extremely pleasing.

Mrs. Keyser, of Rock Hill, cut her thumb on the zinc of a wash board the other day, and but little attention was paid to the matter, as it was not considered serious. She caught cold in the wound and the pain became so intense she was rendered unconscious. While in this condition friends applied hot poultices to ease her sufferings, and left them on until the flesh on her hand and arm was cooked. She now has a very painful wound and will probably lose her hand.
